1st Liver NMP-Training Course 2020

Dear participants!

The aim of this course is to learn practical tips and solutions to problems which are relevant for the clinical implementation of a normothermic machine perfusion program.

Three introduction sessions serve to gain theoretical knowledge and to discuss the problems and hurdles that may arise during implementation. The hands-on training should complete the experience and enhance your qualification to initiate and/or improve liver NMP at your center.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to this course in Innsbruck.
